Gray Whale led her baby out of the shallows and into the warm southern sea.

"Where are we going?" asked Little Whale.
"Follow me," said Gray Whale.

The rest of their family had already left to find food in the cool, rich waters of the North. It was time to join them.
"We’re going on a long journey, Little Whale."

sang Gray Whale. "We’re going home."